

Gunner's Story

I adopted Gunner as a puppy. Gunner is a pitbull and is full of all of that pitbull energy. He is a very smart dog and, as is common with smart dogs, they tend to be stubborn and sometimes resist training. Because of the type of dog he is I couldn't leave his training up to chance, I knew I needed to consult a professional. I cannot tell you how fortunate I was to have found Eddie. Not only is Eddie a true professional with years of experience, he truly understands the mind of a dog.

Eddie didn't only train Gunner, he also trained me. He made me understand, but all of the training in the world isn't going to help if the owner isn't consistent the techniques that they have been shown. Gunner was tough, but Eddie gave me the tools and techniques I needed to help my dog be the best dog he could be. If Gunner is going to need some follow up, which I'm pretty sure he will, you can bet that it's going to be with Eddie.
